CIVILICOM is an Australian start-up company that selects and introduces the best civil engineering and construction industry products and services in a unique collection entitled:

International

Civil Engineering and Construction Industry Permanent E-Fair

This resource is updated continuously and covers excellent companies in the civil engineering and construction industry.

Engineers, designers, project managers, and everyone else can access this e-fair for free to find construction materials, tools, machinery, and professional services they need.

Advantages:

- Comprehensiveness – The largest permanent exhibition of civil engineering and construction industry.
- Global Reach – Unlike physical fairs limited to a specific location, e-fairs allow businesses to connect with a worldwide audience.
- Flexibility – Unlike physical setups that require significant time and effort to modify, virtual booths and presentations can be easily updated or expanded as needed.
- Cost-Effective – Companies save on expenses such as venue rentals, booth setup, travel, accommodation, and printed marketing materials.
- Eco-Friendly – Virtual exhibitions reduce the need for printed brochures, banners, and other physical materials.
- Enhanced Branding – Companies can use multimedia elements such as videos, 3D product models, downloadable brochures and interactive presentations to create a compelling and memorable brand experience. CIVILICOM has a broad social media networking with at least 30,000 expert audiences locally and globally. Also, a 60-second video allows any client to introduce themselves personally.
- 24/7 Accessibility – Allowing visitors from different time zones to explore the content at their convenience, leading to more engagement.
- Open Access – This is an open access exhibition for all audiences.
- Live Booths – All Booths will be linked to the clients' live URLs.
- Enough Space – Allocating enough advertising space of two A4 pages for each client.
- Active advertising presence – we are on Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, WhatsApp, Telegram, YouTube and Pinterest.
- Advanced search capability
